MEMORIES OF INEZ KINNE HOLLISTER

Luther Parker had his own ships and imported goods from China and foreign countries. He lost his health and went to sea, later putting into port at Charleston, South Carolina. He died there February 20, 1820 at the age of 41. He was finally shipped home in a hogshead of rum that he had aboard ship.

The Parker boys (William, George and Benjamin)-(Robert died) went to Peoria, Illinois. George (my grandfather) went in 1835 with his wife and baby Harriet. Sara Buckman Parker went with her son George and his family. They drove in buggies. Chicago was then Fort Dearborn. Benjamin and William had already gone ahead. The Parker boys had adjoining farms at Groveland - just outside of Peoria. Grove Hall was the name of my grandfather's home. He later laid out the town of Atlanta, Illinois. Sarah Buckman Parker died there on 11 December 1867 at the age of 80.

My mother, George Anna Parker, used to tell about Steven Douglas and Abraham Lincoln visiting in their house before she was married.

As a young girl, Sarah Buckman Parker told of living with her uncle Buckman at Buckman's Tavern, Lexington, and of the first shots fired in the Revolutionary War that went into the tavern. She often spoke of kinsman, Paul Revere, but no one seems to have found out just the relationship.

I know little of my father's family. His parents - Prentis Kinne and Ellni Reneaux of Paris, France. I would judge from pictures of Prentis Kinne that he might have been of Scotch ancestry. I wouldn't wonder that there might have been a Mc before Kinne in days gone by. The Kinne family lived just outside Syracuse, N. Y. at Dewitt Center on Kinne street. Ellni died leaving several children who were quite young. Prentis married again. My father went west into Illinois when quite young and married my mother on December 16, 1856. They later went to Chicago and my father's business was burned in the big fire of Chicago in 1871. We lived in Maywood, a suburb of Chicago, until 1878 when we came south to New Orleans for my mother's health. My grandparents were in Maywood, and we went back in the summer time until 1881. We spent two years in Clearwater, Florida but returned to New Orleans. In 1886 we moved to Ponchatoula, Louisiana where I met George Jamison Hollister of Laingsburg, Mich. We married July 10, 1889.

Lt. John Hollister was born in England about 1612 and it is said he came to America about 1642 and settled in Wethersfield, Conn. He was the ancestor of the American family of Hollisters. He died in Wethersfield, Conn. in April 1665.

Isaac Treat Hollister, M.D. and his family lived at "Seven Oaks" farm, Laingsburg, Mich. (Home was later owned by Emily Hollister, widow of O. C. Hollister "Kay" who was the son of Charles).

Margaret,

Sorry took so long to get back on this, Eye sight is still such that I don't spend much time on line, but I wanted to let you know that I do feel the same about you. You have touched my life in a special way and am still hopeful that one of these days when your nephew comes back out this way, that you might be able to make the journey with him.

Bea Jai and I have been busy on turning the spare room into a family history center and will continue to work on building the cabinets and organizing everything over the winter months.

Yesterday was spent over at her house teaching her a mural technique so that she could paint a representation of Mt. Hood on an insert area in her front room. It turned out very well and seems to have given her the confidence to try an original painting on her own. With the two youngsters I doubt that she will have the time to do it shortly, but at least she picked up the important lessons and does show talent and might be able to carry on our art history.

This is about as long as I can stay online still, so must sign off.

Love,
 Dick

LEXINGTON HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Archives,
Hancock-Clarke House,

Ms. Margaret M. H. Wolfe
806 Buena Vista
Pascagoula, Ms. 39567

Dear Margaret,

Thank you so very much for your package of 19 June enclosing your genealogy report and photostatic copy of the family Bible records. It means a great deal to us to add them to our archives and have them on hand as we research the Buckman family over the coming years. This is especially true as we undertake the renovations and restoration at Buckman Tavern beginning this summer.

We sincerely appreciate your thinking of us.

Enclosed are some photostats from our records. I'm fairly sure you've seen this material before, but it never hurts to have another copy!

Very truly yours,

S. L. Doran

Assistant Archivist

THE STORY OF BUCKMAN TAVERN

by
WILLARD D. BROWN

Published 1967, reprinted 1975 by
LEXINGTON HISTORICAL SOCIETY
Lexington, Massachusetts

Rounding the turn in the road are seen the harried and exhausted troops.

Later from down the road a cannon-shot is heard — another — and yet a third. A ball crashes through the Meeting House. British re-inforcements have arrived, and for the moment their Colonial pursuers scatter. Many seek needed rest within the Tavern's walls.

Shortly on the wind comes the acrid smell of smoke from burning homes.

To the Tavern are brought two wounded British soldiers. One of these — later — will be borne to the little cemetery across the Green where already lie the eight who at day break had been mustered to oppose him.

Darkness falls. Out through the Tavern's many-paned windows shine flickering candles. Save in the room where toss the wounded, all is still bustle and confusion. The Tap Room again echoes with excited voices. Exhausted men, trudging wearily homeward, stop for a brief interval on their way. The tragic experiences of the day are told and told again.

The second night wears on: — the last straggler takes his departure: — fires are banked and lights extinguished.

On the 19th of April, 1783, eight years to a day from the memorable encounter that took place on the Common just across from the Tavern, Washington proclaimed the war at an end and discharged the army. Eight years had it lasted; eight men that first morning had given up their lives on Lexington Green.

It was in the year following that Buckman ceased to be an inn-keeper when on March 5, 1784, for the sum of 1240 pounds, he sold the property to his brother-in-law, Joseph Simonds. Six months later, Ruth having died in 1778, he took unto himself a second wife, Sarah Weld, and we cannot but wonder whether the lady's consent was conditional on his giving up the Tavern or if its constant demands had become distasteful to him. But not for long was he to enjoy his life of pleasant ease, for eight years later on December 21, 1792, he passed away.

"Luther had his own ghips and imported goods from China and foreign countries. He lost his health and went to sea, later puttin into port at Charleston, SC. He died there February 20, 1820 at the age of 41. He was finally shipped home in a hogshead of rum that he had aboard ship. The Parker boys went to Peoria, IL. George (my grandfather) went in 1835 with his wife and baby Harriet. They drove in buggies. Chicago was then Fort Dearborn. Benjamin and William had already gone ahead. The Parker boys had adjoining farms at Grovelan-just outside of Peori. Grove Hall was the name of my grandfather's home. He later laid out the town of Atlanta, IL. Sarah Buckman Parker died there on 11 December 1867 at the age of 80. My mother, George Anna Parker, used to tell about Steven Douglas and Abraham Lincoln visiting in their house before she was married. As a young girl, Sarah Buckman Parker told of living with her uncle Buckman at Buckman's Tavern, Lexington, and of the first shots fired in the Revolutionary War that went into the tavern. She often spoke of kinsman, Paul Revere, but no one seems to have found out just the relationship...My father went west into Illinois when quite young and married my mother on December 16, 1856. They later went to Chicago and my father's business was burned in the big fire of Chicago in 1871. We lived in Maywood, a suburb of Chicago, until 1878 when we came south to New Orleans for my mother's health. My grandparents were in Maywood, and we went back in the summer time until 1881. We spent two years in Clearwater, Florida but returned to New Orleans. in 1886 we moved to Ponchatoula, Louisiana where I met George Jamison Hollister of Laingsburg, Mich. We married July 10, 1889."

Notes for Robert Fiske, M.D.:

"In 1711 Robert was a subscriber for the purchase of the common. He was admitted to the church in 1736. His residence was on Hancock street, where his father had resided, and was one of the first settled places in the township. The inventory of his estate sheds light upon the manners and customs of the age. Among other things, we find the following: hat and wig (100s); arms- yellow stock gun (£8 10s), little gun (£5) carbine (50s), brass pistols (50s), rapier and belt (12s); three staves (20s); two cans and two piggins (15s); one loom, quill wheel and warping bars (50s); two pairs snow shoes (30s); Books-Practice of Physic (30s), English Dispensatory or Synopsis of Medicine (30s), The Structure and Condition of Bones (15s). By these items, it will be seen that the doctor was quite as well armed for the art of war as for the art of healing."

"In the distribution of the estate of Dr. Robert Fiske, all of the real estate went to the older brothers of John, so that no deed from him appears to have been thereafter needed and in fact has not been found. April 25, 1757, Robert Fiske of Woburn, physician, gave to Joseph Fiske of Lexington, physician, and Jonas Parker of Lexington, laborer, a bond for £27, conditioned that David Fiske on coming of age would convey to Jonas Parker and Joseph Fiske his share in that one third of the estate of Robert Fiske, Physician of Lexington, deceased, which had been set off to his mother, Mary Fiske, widow of the said Robert. The sureties were John Fiske of Lexington, Dr. Jonathan and David Fiske of Woburn, John Buckman of Lexington and Mary his wife, and Lydia Wilson, widow of Lexington. These sureties were evidently the brothers and sisters of Robert, Joseph and David Fiske, mentioned in the body of the bond. December 5, 1757, John Buckman of Lexington, filed his bond as administrator of that part of the estate of Dr. Robert Fiske, left unadministered by his widow, Mary, the sureties on the bond being John Fiske, physician, of Lexington and John Fiske of Woburn, yeoman."

He was selectman ten years, between 1739 and 1758. He resided on the road to Concord, a little more than a mile from the common, at the easterly side of a large swell of land, which from his residence and ownership has taken the name of "Fiske Hill". It was at this house that the gallant Hayward of Acton met a British soldier coming from the well, between whom shots were exchanged, with fatal effect on both sides. 1449. Lydia Cooper, died November 29, 1654 in Lexington, MA<sup>86</sup>. She was the daughter of 2898. Gregory Stone, Deacon.

Notes for David Fiske, Lieutenant:

"David immigrated at the same time as Lydia Cooper and her brother John. was referred to as a "planter" and was admitted freeman My 26, 1647. He removed from Watertown to Cambridge about 1646 and resided on the northerly side of Linnaean Street, near the Botanic Garden, which estate he sold to Joseph Daniel December 13, 1660, then moved to Cambridge Farms (Lexington). He was a wheelwright and much employed in public service, especially as a surveyor of lands. In 1675 the work of settlement at Worcester was prosecuted with vigor, about the middle of April surveys were made of the lands by David Fiske, of Cambridge. On October 16, 1676, he and Seaborn sold to Samuel Page 149 A. of land in Watertown, granted to his father. On October 6, 1663 the court allowed him 10s each for sevenwolf's whelps heads. Partial surveys of Worcester were made in May of 1685, a lot was laid out for Gookin of 100 A. on the east side of Pakachoag Hill and another lot of 80 A. on Raccoon Plain. There were present at this time David Fiske, surveyor, and others. He was Selectman 1688, and Representative in the critical period of 1689. David was not only one of the first settlers, but became one of the most prominent and useful men in the precinct. He headed the subscription for a meeting house in 1692, and on the organization of the parish the year after, he was chosen clerk, and one of the selectmen or assessors. He was also chosen chairman of a committee to purchase of the town of Cambridge a lot of land for the support of the ministry. These and other similar offices he frequently held under the Parish. He was also a member of the church organized in 1696, and his wife immediately after removed her relation from the church in Cambridge to the church gathered in the precinct. He not only served his fellow-citizens in a civil and religious, but also in a military capacity, as appears. He resided on Hancock Street. He was one of the most prominent men in the settlement at the Farms; precinct clerk and assessor; the first subscriber for erecting a meeting house there, and the first named member of the Church. David's will mentions his wife Seaborn; son Nicholas Wyeth, his daughter being dead; children David, Elizabeth, Anna and Abigail; cousin Samuel, son of Deacon Samuel Stone." On February 3, 1720 an agreement was filed in the Middlesex probate court. It was between the children of the late Lt. David Fiske, of Lexington, deceased, viz: John and Elizabeth Russell, Henry and Abigail Baldwin, children of the late Lt. David Fiske; and Timothy Carter, of Charlestown, to the office of attorney and trustee for Timothy Carter, of Woburn, his father, and the children of said Timothy Carter, descendants from the said David Fiske, and between David Fiske, of Lexington, only son of the said deceased, in order to a final settlement. We have herunto set our hands and seals the day and year first above written and Timothy Carter, of Woburn above mentioned, who married Anna Fiske, daughter of said Lt. Fisk, being present at this agreement fully concord in the settlement. A handsome monument was erected in 1856 by Benjamin Fiske, Esquire, with this inscription: "In memory of David Fiske, who died February 14, 1719, and his descendants." On March 3, 1717 Seaborn Fiske, of Lexington, for £8 sold to Alexander Lovell, cordwainer, and Thomas Loverll, currier, both of Ipswich, her undivided common right in Ipswich the "said right of land being left to me ye said Fiske by my Honored father, Theophilus Wilson, of Ipswich, deceased, for part of portion ye above granted premisses together with ye ways, uses." Seaborn Fiske, only surviving daughter and heir of Mr. Theophilus Wilson, late of Ipswich, deceased, conveying to her kinsmen, Thomas and Alexander Lovell of Ipswich, acknowledges the above deed July 3, 1719.

"David of Watertown, was admitted a freeman of the colony in March of 1638. He had come to America, probably the preceding year, as he was not a proprietor until February of 1637. Before 1644 he was a grantee of one lot and a purchaser of six other lots. His homestall of twenty-two acres was granted to John Kingsbury, of whom he had purchased it just prior to his removal to Dedham. This latter property was bounded on the north by the Cambridge line; on the south by the Pond Road highway; on the west by land of J. Coolidge; and the east by land of B. Bullard. The total amount of his real estate was 227 acres. He held much standing in the community and early held office. In 1639 he was a member of the Board of Selectmen, and again in 1642. Was a juror in 1652-4-5-7. His will mentioned his daughter Mrs. Fitch, and his son David, who was sole executor and residuary legatee, giving him his "houses, lands, cattle and chattels." The inventory of his estate totalled £78 09 01. On August 6, 1673, the son sold his homestall and two other lots of his land in Watertown to John Coolidge."

"I, David Fiske, of Watertown, in the County of Middlesex, in New England: being sicke in body, but of perfect memory...having given a writing under my hand to my sonne in law Fitch, of some articles that his is to have after my decease, as my best bed and a bolster & 2 coverlets and a pot & kettle, and these articles being taken out. 11584. Robert Fiske, born 1525 in Stadhaugh, England<sup>88</sup>, died Bet. April 10, 1590 & July 28, 1600 in St. James, England<sup>88</sup>. He was the son of 23168. Simon Fiske. He married 11585. Sybil Gould<sup>88</sup>.

Notes for Robert Fiske:

Robert lived in St. James, South Elmham, England for a while. Sybil was in great danger in the time of the religious persecution, 1553-58, as was her sister Isabella, who was confined in the castle of Norwich, and escaped death only by the power of her brothers, who were men of great influence in the county. Robert fled for religions' sake in the days of Queen Mary to Geneva, but later returned, and died at St. James. The progeny of their sons William, Jeffrey and Thomas in whole or in part settled in New England. About this time was a season of great religious persecution.

Children of Robert Fiske and Sybil Gould are:

- i. William Fiske<sup>88</sup>, born 1566 in St. James, England<sup>88</sup>, died Bet. November 25, 161 & May 17, 1623 in Ditchingham, England (will)<sup>88</sup>, married (1) Alice<sup>88</sup>; married (2) Anna Anstye<sup>88</sup>.

- iv. Eleazer Fiske<sup>88</sup>, died Bet. June 03, 1613 & July 04, 1615 in Metfield, England<sup>88</sup>, married Elizabeth<sup>88</sup>.
- v. Elizabeth Fiske, married Robert Bernard<sup>88</sup>.

Notes for Robert Bernard:

"It will be remembered that Robert and Sybil Fiske, of whom their descendants were accustomed to speak with respect as Protestant confessors in the reign of Queen Mary, had beside the four sons a daughter Elizabeth, who married Robert Bernard, who was a farmer of the estate of Custrick Hall, in Wecky, County Essex, England, with he held of Sir Edward Coke, the lord chief justice. And, having mentioned this marriage, Cangler brings before us a genealogical fact of great curiosity and importance. It is that a daughter of this Bernard married a Locke, and was the mother of John Locke, who writing about 1660, he describes simply as "John Locke, M.A." Very little is known of Locke's father, but any one who has written on his life has not had the slightest knowledge of the mother to whom we owe this eminent man. The mother of Locke was brought up among the more zealous Puritans of the Counties of Essex and Suffolk, and heard from her infancy stories of religious persecutions. She must have seen near connections of her family leaving their native homes to find, as they supposed, security and peace in a distant land, and the feeling thus engendered in her mind we may easily believe to have been communicated to her son, who in due time became the great defender of the principles of the utmost tolerance in dealing with men in force of conscience and religious opinion. This is a digression, but perhaps it will not be unacceptable to see the name of so illustrious a person now for the first time placed in public in family connection with so many of the early Puritan settlers in New England. Bernard stood in the relation of great-uncle to Candler, who records the facts which I have now brought from their hiding place, and to all the Fiskes who laid the foundation of the families of that name in the New England states. John Locke (grandson of Robert Fiske), English philosopher, was born at Wrington, Somersetshire, August 29, 1632."

Notes for Richard Fiske:

"According to Cotton Mather, Richard lived in the reign of Queen Mary and endured grievous persecution. There were several branches of Fiskes in the southern parts of the County of Suffolk, England, all springing from a Richard Fiske, who lived at Broad Gates, Laxfield, a rural village north of Framlingham, where the inhabitants were so zealous for the feformation that one of them, John Noyes, was most barbarously put to death in the reign of Queen Mary. Fox, in his account of the burning of Noyes, speaks of Nicholas Fiske, who was one of the sons of Richard. Two other of his sons, Robert and William, fled in the time of that terrible persecution. William was the subject of parricide, for which his son, Joseph Fiske, suffered the penalty of death at Bury St. Edmunds."

(This would indicate that Hannah Lamson died sometime after giving birth to Isaiah and that Jeremiah married third time, to another woman named Hannah).

John & Sarah: Samuel 2/17/1663, Mary 12/12/1667, Jeremiah 2/5/1670. (due to sequence of births, it is commonly assumed that this is the same John Buckman and since the names of Hannah and Ann were interchangeable at the time, John may have only been married twice).
71. Savage, Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England, 287, A John Buckman, perhaps the same name (as Joses Bucknam), was of Boston 1673, was probably grandchild of Prudence Wilkinson, and of first William (Bucknam). Of him, I presume, it is, that Sewall, in his Diary, under 30 Oct. 1696, relates, that he (John Buckman) had been perfectly dumb for eighteen years and had his speech restored. It is almost certain that he was the first son of the first William (Bucknam), who in his will, explained why he gave him so small a portion was, because he (John) had been infirm from early youth, and was taken by his grandmother. (William's daughter-in-law, Judith, stated, after Joses' death, that her brother-in-law John had been living with them for 20 years; therefore, John of Boston can't be the son of William).
72. Suffolk Co., MA Probate Register, 1183 Recorded 20 July 1681, In the name of God Amen, I John Buckman of Boston in New England Senior being in a competant measure of health and of sound memory and under understanding yet considering the frailty of mans life and not knowing how soon I may be taken out of this world doo make and ordaine this to bee my last will and testament revoking and nulling all other willes by mee formerly made in manner following. First I bequeath my soule unto the Everlasting armes of Jesus Christ my Saviour hoping through his grace to obtain Everlasting life when this miserable life is ended and my body to the Earth from whence it came. Devoutly to God -- I give and bequeath my just debts and funeral expenses first being discharged unto mytwo children Mary Buckman and Jeremiah Buckman all the Estate that I shall leave behind mee at the time of my decease equally to be divided between them. Only I give unto my daughter Mary my best rugg and the furniture besides the said half part and a chest and drawers belonging to it and I doo make and constitute my livinge friends Mr. John Viall Junior and Samuell Townsend to be the Executors and overseers and of this my last will desiring them to take care that this my last will may be performed and that my two children above named may have what I leave behind mee at my decease when they come to age. And in testimony that this is my last will I have hereunto set my hand and seale this twentieth day of

- Aprill anno dm one Thousand Sixe hundred and Eighty one. July 28, 1681: Samuel Townsend renounced his Executorship and Thomas Kemble deposed that he and Nicholas Shepley were present at the signing of the will.
73. Suffolk Co., MA Probate Register, Estate Inventory 13 May, 1681, no real estate; 2 ruggs (00 16 00); 3 shirtes, 3 shoohes, 3 shawls (01 05 00); a parcell of his wearing clothes (01 00 00); one old chest of drawers (00 10 00); a meale trough, 2 iron potts & potthookes tongs & gridiron (00 10 00); ane bed, bedstand, 2 pillows, 1 old rugge & some other ould bedding (02 00 00); one ould cubberd (00 05 00); two pewter dishes, 3 earthen dishes & 1 pan (00 04 00); one wooden spinning wheele and cards (00 04 00): Total: 06 14 00.
74. Ancestry of Emily Jane Angell (1844-1910), "Electronic," 1672 John Buckman of Rehobeth, MA & James Blackmore purchased 83 A., in Providence, from Edward Inman & John Mowry. John Buckman, James Blackmar, John Whipple II, Benjamin Bucklin, John Mowry, William Hopkins, Stephen Arnold & Edward Inman agreed to share expenses & profits equally in Silver Mine on Inman's property (This is the son of William Bucknam of Charlestown, MA and not related).
75. Lee, Frances Bazley, Genealogical and Personal Memorial of Mercer County, NJ, (The Lewis Publishing Company, New York Chicago 1907), Vol. II, p.698, Gravesend was divided in 1645 into thirty-nine lots and among those receiving shares were: Richard Stout, John Buckman, Samuel Spicer, Nicholas Stillwell, John Bowne, William Goulding, William Compton, and others whose names are familiar in the early history of Monmouth. The following year, 1646, John Buckman sold his share to Thomas Applegate, who was probably the same Thomas Applegate who, with the colony of Massachusetts Bay in 1635, was licensed to keep a ferry between Weymouth and Braintree. (There is a John Ruckman (b1590) with wife Elizabeth and son John (II) (b.1626) who came from England in 1635 to Plymouth Colony (either Sandwich and or Lynn) who was a follower of Lady Moody and her anabaptist followers and who moved with her to Gravesend, Long Island about 1643. John (I) died there in the spring of 1650. His son John (II) moved to Middleton, Monmouth Co., New Jersey before 1667. Consequently, I believe that the above Buckman is a typo; however, I don't know if there were other Ruckmans who immigrated with John & Elizabeth and may have changed their name to avoid association as anabaptists, a sect not cared for by the Puritans. Pioneers of Massachusetts list a George Ruckman as a creditor of Thomas Hampton of Sandwich in 1637.).
76. Suffolk Co., MA Deeds, 2/11/1655: Walter Merry of Boston, Shipwright, to George Palmer of Boston, Wine Cooper, land "that more or lesse bounded upon John Buckmans Land on the Northwest". 8/7/1657: George Palmer to Elias Parkman of Boston, Mariner, land bounded "by lands of John Buckman in the west". 1/13/1673: John & Sarah Buckman to Samuel Townsend of Rumney Marsh land in the Northend of Boston "leading from the Mill Bridge toward winnesemmet fferrye" with the provision of "free privillidge and enjoyment of egress and regress passage...into and from his sd dwelling house into the street" 5/27/1674: John & Sarah Buckman to Samuel Townsend land & dwelling provided that John could reside in the house until his death and that if Townsend "cause to pull down apart or the whole thereof... (he must) provide a convenient roome for him the sd Buckman to reside in.". The deeds were signed with John & Sarah's marks indicating that they didn't know how to write.
77. Records and Files of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, MA, (Essex Institute, Salem, MA 1912), Vol. II p. 185, John Buckman promised to pay £5 to Joseph Armitage in 1652 "although he took his wife bare, without anything". In November 1659, Armitage bought suit against John which resulted in the constable of Lynn, MA attaching John's boat of "sixe or seven tonnes" until payment of £6 was remitted. (This would imply that Hannah was the widow, or child of, a William Butler).
78. Suffolk Co., MA Probate Register, 9/24/1684: The widow of John Buckman, was granted his entire estate since he made no provision for her in his will.
79. Savage, Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England, 286, Buckman, John, One of this name was a soldier in Moseley's comp. Dec. 1675.
80. Richard J. Bucknum, Opinion, Since John Buckman declared himself as a Senior in his will and the administration of this John's estate calls him Jr, he probably is the son of this John Buckman.
81. Richard J. Bucknum, Opinion, John must have been born before 1660, if he were to be at least 16 by the time he was engaged in military battles.
82. "New England Historical & Genealogical Register," Report on the Sudbury Fight, John Buckman, junior is listed as "dyed in the country's serviec, 1676."
83. Suffolk Co., MA Probate Register, #835, Hannah Thomas, widow, posted bond (£30) for administration of "Estate of her late brother John Buckman junior."
84. New England Marriages Prior to 1700, (Genealogical Publishing Co., Baltimore, MD (1985)), Hannah Buckman m. Walter Thomas bef. 1673, Boston (the birthdate of their daughter).
85. Richard J. Bucknum, Opinion, Since Daniel is not mentioned in John Sr's will, he probably died before 4/26/1681.

MEMORIES OF INEZ KINNE HOLLISTER

Luther Parker had his own ships and imported goods from China and foreign countries. He lost his health and went to sea, later putting into port at Charleston, South Carolina. He died there February 20, 1820 at the age of 41. He was finally shipped home in a hogshead of rum that he had aboard ship.

The Parker boys (William, George and Benjamin)-(Robert died) went to Peoria, Illinois. George (my grandfather) went in 1835 with his wife and baby Harriet. Sara Buckman Parker went with her son George and his family. They drove in buggies. Chicago was then Fort Dearborn. Benjamin and William had already gone ahead. The Parker boys had adjoining farms at Groveland - just outside of Peoria. Grove Hall was the name of my grandfather's home. He later laid out the town of Atlanta, Illinois. Sarah Buckman Parker died there on 11 December 1867 at the age of 80.

My mother, George Anna Parker, used to tell about Steven Douglas and Abraham Lincoln visiting in their house before she was married.

As a young girl, Sarah Buckman Parker told of living with her uncle Buckman at Buckman's Tavern, Lexington, and of the first shots fired in the Revolutionary War that went into the tavern. She often spoke of kinsman, Paul Revere, but no one seems to have found out just the relationship.

I know little of my father's family. His parents - Prentis Kinne and Ellni Reneaux of Paris, France. I would judge from pictures of Prentis Kinne that he might have been of Scotch ancestry. I wouldn't wonder that there might have been a Mc before Kinne in days gone by. The Kinne family lived just outside Syracuse, N. Y. at Dewitt Center on Kinne street. Ellni died leaving several children who were quite young. Prentis married again. My father went west into Illinois when quite young and married my mother on December 16, 1856. They later went to Chicago and my father's business was burned in the big fire of Chicago in 1871. We lived in Maywood, a suburb of Chicago, until 1878 when we came south to New Orleans for my mother's health. My grandparents were in Maywood, and we went back in the summer time until 1881. We spent two years in Clearwater, Florida but returned to New Orleans. In 1886 we moved to Ponchatoula, Louisiana where I met George Jamison Hollister of Laingsburg, Mich. We married July 10, 1889.

Lt. John Hollister was born in England about 1612 and it is said he came to America about 1642 and settled in Wethersfield, Conn. He was the ancestor of the American family of Hollisters. He died in Wethersfield, Conn. in April 1665.

Isaac Treat Hollister, M.D. and his family lived at "Seven Oaks" farm, Laingsburg, Mich. (Home was later owned by Emily Hollister, widow of O. C. Hollister "Kay" who was the son of Charles).

Margaret,

Sorry took so long to get back on this, Eye sight is still such that I don't spend much time on line, but I wanted to let you know that I do feel the same about you. You have touched my life in a special way and am still hopeful that one of these days when your nephew comes back out this way, that you might be able to make the journey with him.

Bea Jai and I have been busy on turning the spare room into a family history center and will continue to work on building the cabinets and organizing everything over the winter months.

Yesterday was spent over at her house teaching her a mural technique so that she could paint a representation of Mt. Hood on an insert area in her front room. It turned out very well and seems to have given her the confidence to try an original painting on her own. With the two youngsters I doubt that she will have the time to do it shortly, but at least she picked up the important lessons and does show talent and might be able to carry on our art history.

This is about as long as I can stay online still, so must sign off.

Love,
 Dick

Ms. Margaret M. H. Wolfe
806 Buena Vista
Pascagoula, Ms. 39567

Dear Margaret,

Thank you so very much for your package of 19 June enclosing your genealogy report and photostatic copy of the family Bible records. It means a great deal to us to add them to our archives and have them on hand as we research the Buckman family over the coming years. This is especially true as we undertake the renovations and restoration at Buckman Tavern beginning this summer.

We sincerely appreciate your thinking of us.

Enclosed are some photostats from our records. I'm fairly sure you've seen this material before, but it never hurts to have another copy!

Very truly yours,

S. L. Doran

Assistant Archivist

THE STORY
TAVERN

by
WILLARD D. BROWN

Published 1967, reprinted 1975 by
LEXINGTON HISTORICAL SOCIETY
Lexington, Massachusetts

Rounding the turn in the road are seen the harried and exhausted troops.

Later from down the road a cannon-shot is heard — another — and yet a third. A ball crashes through the Meeting House. British re-inforcements have arrived, and for the moment their Colonial pursuers scatter. Many seek needed rest within the Tavern's walls.

Shortly on the wind comes the acrid smell of smoke from burning homes.

To the Tavern are brought two wounded British soldiers. One of these — later — will be borne to the little cemetery across the Green where already lie the eight who at day break had been mustered to oppose him.

Darkness falls. Out through the Tavern's many-paned windows shine flickering candles. Save in the room where toss the wounded, all is still bustle and confusion. The Tap Room again echoes with excited voices. Exhausted men, trudging wearily homeward, stop for a brief interval on their way. The tragic experiences of the day are told and told again.

The second night wears on: — the last straggler takes his departure: — fires are banked and lights extinguished.

On the 19th of April, 1783, eight years to a day from the memorable encounter that took place on the Common just across from the Tavern, Washington proclaimed the war at an end and discharged the army. Eight years had it lasted; eight men that first morning had given up their lives on Lexington Green.

It was in the year following that Buckman ceased to be an inn-keeper when on March 5, 1784, for the sum of 1240 pounds, he sold the property to his brother-in-law, Joseph Simonds. Six months later, Ruth having died in 1778, he took unto himself a second wife, Sarah Weld, and we cannot but wonder whether the lady's consent was conditional on his giving up the Tavern or if its constant demands had become distasteful to him. But not for long was he to enjoy his life of pleasant ease, for eight years later on December 21, 1792, he passed away.
